BookBaby, United States, 2016. Hardback. Book Condition: New. Bill Hackney (illustrator). 277 x 213 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book. Somewhere Between Excellent and Perfect: The Life of Dr. Irvin I. Donick presents, through a wide-ranging text and numerous 4-color pictures, the remarkable story of a person who started life as a young child hiding from the Nazis with his parents in a horse barn in Poland, then comes to America at the age of ten with no knowledge of how to speak, write or read English. He eventually graduates college and podiatry school and becomes a trend setter in his field, with hospital privileges and surgical rights as a podiatrist. He also serves as the podiatrist for a professional basketball team. Eventually, he builds one of the largest podiatry group practices in the nation. Married to his high school sweet heart, he fathers a son and daughter who become lawyers and another daughter who becomes a doctor, and eventually enjoys interacting with eleven grandchildren. Denied a youth because of the Holocaust, Dr. Donick becomes a person of many interests. He builds toys and a train set for his children, starts a business selling ice cream, and is so skilled in woodworking he builds furniture for his family and friends and constructs a racquetball court in his home. Retiring at the age of fifty, he begins traveling the world with his wife, visiting all 50 states and 144 countries. Fascinated with photography, he takes more than 60,000 color pictures. A number of these pictures accompany the text that tell of his many travels, including his three most exciting trips -- to China (in 1978 as part of the first American tourist group to visit), to the primitive section of New Guinea where he met former head hunters, and to...
