Abstract of several articles contributed to the Church Journal (Neir York), between Ajiril 4, 1870, and June 15, 1870, in reference to the question of the omission of the Filioque. I can not join in commending the omission of the obnoxious Filioque in the recital of the Nicene Creed. Not an English Churchman present, says your correspondent, thought, even for a moment, that he was thereby compromising his Church or himself. Of this I have no doubt; and as little do I doubt that every English Churchman present and consenting to the omission, did compromise both himself and his Church, whatever he might think to the contrary. The words and the Son are as plainly part of the confession of faith in God the Holy Ghost, as the words of the same substance are part of the confession of faith in God the...
