By Manchester Geographical Society

Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Journal of the Manchester Geographical Society, 1904, Vol. 20 When we made our arrangements for the Annual Meeting, a few short week 8 ago, our dear old friend Mr. Sowerbutts undertook to occupy our time after the business proceedings by reading a paper on The Story of the Village of Blackley. He had collected material enough to enable him to interest his hearers, and to throw light on social developments and customs and make us understand how the country village of a hundred years ago had become a ward of the city of Manchester, and what had been the kind of men who had been instrumental in making this great change. We who know our friends graphic power, his sympathy with other peoples thoughts and deeds, his genial humour, and his clear, straightforward mode of speech, cannot help regretting the treat we know we should have enjoyed; though, as we think of all that his death has taken from us, this is, after all, but one small item in the long list we can...
